

...own to be a powerful guy, sometimes to his detriment. On day one Carter had a solid pop in the main but couldn't hold off the local Dardini. He would find the ground out of turn one all by himself.
Day two was a bit better for Carter as he finished fourth.

On the Amateur side, 7x Lucas Ruiz came away with his first national win and followed it up the next day with a win on his cruiser. Watch out factory dads, this kid means business!

In the 11 year old ranks Callum Howarth out of Queensland, Australia was a dominant force. He went five for six (he got second behind Pat O'Brien in 11 Cruiser on Sunday) on the weekend. The long, tall Aussie is ranked World #4 and will definitely be back to race the Worlds against a full American cast come July.

The Colombians were in full force all weekend long. W-Elite team manager Fredy Zuleta brought his squad and they came to win. At one point they fired off five wins in a row in the girls classes and won bike shop team both days. They will also be a
